

Denver Meade Charged With Murder

Two Killed In Commercial Point

By DAVE AMEY
Herald Staff Writer

Residents of the small Pickaway County community of Commercial Point were aroused from their supper tables early Saturday night by a volley of gunfire that left two dead and a third charged with the murders.

Denver Meade, 40, allegedly opened fire on the five-member John William Van Sickle family with a wild barrage of bullets from an 8-gun arsenal. Killed were 16-year-old John Douglas Van Sickle and his mother, Charlotte Ann Van Sickle.

Meade surrendered without resisting to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz as other county deputies, assisted by nine Franklin County units, the Commercial Point marshal and the Hamilton Twp. constable, surrounded the area.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, who headed the initial investigation, announced

Sunday that Meade is charged with two counts of first degree murder.

The bizarre shooting started about 5 p.m. Saturday "after Meade and Van Sickle exchanged words over cars parked in the driveway to the two house trailers," according to Sheriff Radcliff.

"Our preliminary investigation shows that there had been problems between the two families concerning a mutual driveway which provided access to the two homes," Radcliff said.

The house trailers are located north of Brown St. in Commercial Point about 200 yards from the road, with about 25 yards separating the two units. Van Sickle had apparently purchased the land from Meade or was in the process of buying it, the sheriff said.

Van Sickle told Sheriff Radcliff that he and his family got into their car, which was parked directly in front of his trailer, about 5 p.m. Van Sickle was in the driver's seat, his wife Charlotte sat next to him, John sat on the passenger's side nearest Meade's trailer. The couple's two other children, Sheryl, 14, and Rodger, 12, were not in the car.

According to statements, as Van Sickle turned the ignition switch of the car, he heard an explosion that sounded like "a firecracker." He heard another explosion and glass breaking when his son slumped into his mother's lap with a high-powered slug in his head.

Van Sickle ordered his wife from the car and told her to take cover behind the vehicle. During a lull in the initial shooting, a volley that sounded like "firecrackers or a jet plane backfire," according to close neighbors, Van Sickle told Sheryl and Rodger to run the 15 yards to the trailer and try to find his pistol. Their dash apparently drew rifle fire from Meade and Mrs. Van Sickle broke from her husband's grasp to summon help.

She ran the length of the driveway to James Wines' trailer to ask him to call for police and then broke from his grasp and tried to return to her husband and dead son. However, on her return run, Meade allegedly opened fire with a volley of shots. She turned and was headed back towards the safety of a garage when she was felled.

Meanwhile, Van Sickle entered his trailer, found a pistol and returned to the car.

Commercial Point Marshal Jack Fisk was first to arrive at the scene. He saw the body of Mrs. Van Sickle laying near the driveway entrance and spotted Van Sickle crouching behind his car with a pistol.

With the loudspeaker of his cruiser, Marshal Fisk ordered Van Sickle to drop his weapon "several times". During the commotion (the shots had drawn rescue personnel from several local units), Meade, his wife Florence and stepdaughter, Patricia Miller, walked from their trailer but were ordered back inside by the marshal. Reports indicate that Meade disregarded his order and went to talk with Scioto Twp. firemen who were doubling as rescue personnel. He apparently then returned to the trailer.

With the arrival of Sheriff Radcliff and about 12 lawmen, Van Sickle tossed his revolver on the ground in front of him. The Sheriff organized the men to cordon off the area and they started inching towards the two trailers.

Deputy Don Thompson spotted Mrs. Meade at the window of her trailer and ordered her to come outside. She was followed by her daughter. Deputy Bill Dountz, who had slipped around to the rear, got behind Meade and he surrendered peacefully to the officer.

Van Sickle and Meade were taken immediately to Pickaway County jail for interrogation. They went in separate cruisers. Mrs. Meade and her daughter were taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of shock and the remaining Van Sickle children were placed in the custody of friends.

Investigation by the Sheriff's Department, London's Bureau of Criminal Investigation and County Prosecutor Richard Gerhardt later that night and Sunday morning uncovered "eight or nine weapons" in the Meade trailer. The weapons ranged from high-powered rifles to .22 caliber rifles and pistols. Small caliber shell casings were found inside the rear door of the trailer. Larger caliber casings were discovered on the rear porch, nearest the Van Sickle trailer.

Deputies traced the path of one shot from Meade's porch through a window of Van Sickle's trailer and out the far wall. Another slug was discovered imbedded in the fender wall of one of Meade's cars which was parked near the entrance of the driveway, another was found in the glove compartment of Van Sickle's car, and another shattered a garage window about 200 yards away.

Evidence indicates the weapons were lined up near the rear door of the Meade trailer. Meade apparently fired from the rear door and then walked out onto the porch to continue shooting.

See Viet Pact By Midweek

WASHINGTON (AP) — As captured enemy documents signaled a midweek initialing of a cease-fire accord, Henry A. Kissinger flew back to Paris today to join allied and Communist officials in the last steps toward ending the Vietnam war.

Before the presidential assistant left rain-swept Andrews Air Force Base at midmorning, he met with President Nixon for an hour at the White House to get last-minute instructions.

Officially, the White House continued to portray the purpose of Kissinger's return to the French capital as "completing the text of an agreement" to end the fight.

But a flurry of developments Sunday bolstered the belief that an agreement soon will be signed, calling for a cease-fire, the return of prisoners of war, and machinery to reshape the South Vietnamese government. The major developments:

—Senior South Vietnamese officials said captured documents from the Communist high command stated that an agreement will be initialed at 8 a.m. EST Wednesday, that it will be formally signed on Saturday and that a cease-fire will go into effect on Sunday, Jan. 28.

—While shying away from specific dates, Washington sources indicated that Nixon has set a goal of wrapping up the Vietnam agreement this week and that, barring unexpected snags, the President is confident of hitting that target.

—South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam told an interviewer as he departed for Paris that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be in Saigon on Jan. 28, presumably to demonstrate that Washington and Saigon were entering the post-war era shoulder-to-shoulder.

—Agnew himself said he couldn't answer when asked whether he will be heading for Saigon, saying the President would have to make "that announcement."

—Congressional sources reported that Nixon plans a meeting with Capitol Hill leaders within the next few days, providing him a forum to brief them on details of a peace accord.

—The Viet Cong foreign minister, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, arrived in Paris and said the Communists are ready to "do everything possible to achieve a quick settlement."

Amid these developments, the White House maintained its lid on official discussion of Vietnam negotiations. When asked about reports that a pact would be initialed within days, a spokesman said he would have no comment on "speculative stories."

Kissinger and Hanoi Politburo member Le Duc Tho interrupted their talks on Jan. 13, when the U.S. negotiator returned to Washington for consultation with Nixon. The next day, Nixon dispatched Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., his chief liaison officer with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, to Saigon and four other Asian capitals to outline terms of a tentative agreement.

Haig returned from his mission Sunday and went immediately into meetings with Kissinger and Nixon. They met for more than two hours in two separate sessions before and after private inaugural-weekend receptions for the President's relatives and political supporters.

Indications were that Haig brought Nixon a personal message from Thieu confirming the South Vietnamese leader's acceptance of major points of the tentative agreement negotiated by Kissinger and Tho. There were signs too, that Nixon immediately dispatched a response to Thieu.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker paid an unusual late-night call on Thieu Sunday, staying at the presidential palace 10 minutes—just enough time perhaps to deliver a cable from Nixon.

Congress Awaiting Details Of Presidential Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up more of President Nixon's Cabinet nominations this week while the Democratic-controlled Congress awaits the two presidential messages expected to fill in details of his second-term program.

Nixon's 17-minute inaugural speech Saturday to a chilled crowd of 35,000 outside the Capitol and millions watching on television drew generally favorable congressional reaction.

But many Democrats echoed the reaction of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that "the real test will be in the policies and programs yet to come," in the State of the Union message expected later this week and the budget due on Jan. 29.

With reports of widespread budget reductions in domestic programs already rampant, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., cautioned that, "if he intends to dismantle all the federal programs, there will be a major clash."

With two Cabinet choices already approved, the Senate plans to act Thursday on Nixon's nomination of Elliot L. Richardson as the new secretary of defense.

Action is due Tuesday on William P. Clements, who is slated to become deputy defense secretary, and James Schlesinger, to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

James Lynn's nomination as secretary of housing and urban development may be acted on also during the week as may the choice of New York union leader Peter Brennan to be secretary of labor.

Only one nomination, that of Caspar Weinberger to be secretary of health, education and welfare, faces any major delay. Some Democrats are vowing to hold it up until they find out the size of anticipated budget cuts in its programs.

Most of the generally muted criticism of Nixon's second inaugural address fell on the domestic section.

House Speaker Carl Albert, noting Nixon's statement that America was built by work, not welfare, said no one believes welfare can solve everyone's problem but that "we do have people who can't do it all for themselves."

Sens. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, and William Hathaway, D-Maine, all focused on the lack of specifics in the President's inaugural.

"It was appropriate to restore our commitment to peace and to a better America," Muskie said, "but he didn't tell us how to do it."

Hathaway called it "a nice speech" but added "we're still waiting for details."

St. Louis Teachers Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A strike by public school teachers in St. Louis — the first in the city's history — was called for today as similar walkouts continued in Philadelphia and Chicago.

Members of St. Louis Teachers Union Local 420 and the St. Louis Teachers Association, with both groups representing 2,800 members, authorized the strike in separate votes Sunday.

Despite a walkout, a spokesman for the school board said classes would be held for the system's 103,000 pupils attending 165 elementary and high schools.

In all three cities, pay raises are a key issue.

The St. Louis teachers have been demanding raises in bargaining sessions which have been under way since November. Their demands include a raise in the starting salary from $7,200 to $8,200. They also want a paid hospitalization program and a collective bargaining agreement.

Elsewhere, court proceedings were to begin today against 24 officials of the Philadelphia Federation of Teachers, the group leading a walkout which has started into its third week.

The union officials were named in criminal contempt proceedings for refusing to obey a court order to end the walkout.

Negotiators for teachers in Chicago, who have been on strike since Jan. 10, say three major issues remain unsettled in that walkout and that the school board can not "buy us off with a salary increase alone."

Ponder Charges

In Skyjack Bid

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Local officials were expected to determine today what additional charges will be filed against a 17-year-old AWOL Army private whose attempt to hijack an airplane failed early Saturday.

So far Dennis V. Durkin of Pittsburgh, Pa., is being held on a federal charge of possession of an illegal weapon. Federal officials say more charges probably will be filed by them, but air piracy probably will not be among them.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Fred Partin said there is "some difficulty with the statute. The way it reads, the aircraft must be off the ground or immediately ready for takeoff before it's air piracy."

Blizzard Hits Nation's Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With a mighty wallop, winter reassessed its hold over the nation's midsection early today, spreading snow and freezing rain from Nebraska and Arkansas to the Great Lakes.

Scores of motorists were stranded in Oklahoma Sunday when snow drifted 3 feet deep at places.

Blizzard conditions in the northwestern part of the state closed all roads in some counties. A bus with 18 persons aboard was bogged down in drifts south of Woodward, Okla.

During the night, 2 to 4 inches of snow fell from south central Kansas to central Iowa. Heavy snow warnings for 4 inches or more were issued for today from southeast Nebraska and northwest Missouri to southern Wisconsin, northwest Illinois and upper and lower Michigan.

A five-mile line of trucks and cars jammed from the Missouri River Bridge into Iowa Sunday night after the collision of a car and two semitrailer trucks on Interstate 80 near Council Bluffs. Although there were no serious injuries, 10 trucks stalled or jack-knifed behind the accident scene as 6 to 8 inches of snow accumulated in the area.

A flash flood watch was called in Illinois and parts of Indiana and Kentucky.

Meanwhile, warm, moist air spread northward over the eastern third of the nation.

Rain dampened areas from northern Florida across the central Appalachians to the Ohio Valley. Columbus, Ga., registered 1.3 inches of rain, and Albany, Ga., and Crossville, Tenn., took on an inch around midnight last night.

While most of the nation had cloudy skies, the western third of the continent, parts of the southern Plains and lower Mississippi Valley and New England had fair skies.

Joint Funeral Services Set For Mother, Son

Joint funeral services will be held 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Porter Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling, for Mrs.

Charlotte Ann Van Sickle, 36, and her son, John Douglas Van Sickle, 16, who were shot to death at their trailer home in Commercial Point Saturday.

Cleveland Police Unit Shut Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Twelve men and horses of the Cleveland mounted police unit went to Washington, D.C., over the weekend but weren't allowed to appear in Saturday's inaugural parade.

The unit arrived in Washington, but leaders said an Army colonel wouldn't let them un-load their horses after their train pulled in. Although some Cleveland park police on horses did get into the parade, the crack team from the mounted unit never did get their horses off the train.

"I protested and told him we were on the program," explained Sgt. Arthur Lettieri. "I asked him what the problem was."

The colonel's answer was to turn and walk away, Lettieri said. The sergeant said he was so mad he even forgot to get the colonel's name.

The mounted unit of the Cleveland police is 61 years old and first marched in a presidential inauguration parade in 1921 at the invitation of President Warren G. Harding, an Ohioan.

The Rev. Robert McNeeley will officiate. Burial will be in Pleasant Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Van Sickle was born near Bucyrus Jan. 2, 1937, the daughter of Russell and Cynthia Thurman Williams. Her mother who now lives in Mt. Sterling survives.

Other survivors include her husband, John William Van Sickle; one daughter, Sheryl Lynn Van Sickle; one son, Rodger Van Sickle, all of the home; one brother, Russ Williams, Mt. Sterling; two sisters, Mrs. Harvey (Margie) Love, Amanda; Ruth Taylor, Columbus.

John Douglas was a sophomore at Teays Valley High School. In addition to the above relatives, he is survived by paternal grandmother, Mary Susan Van Sickle, Gallipolis, other aunts and uncles.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — With hopes for a Vietnam peace settlement rising and reassurances coming from administration officials that the battle against inflation will continue to be waged full force in Phase 3, the stock market managed some small gains—the first advance in four sessions.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 1.13 to 1027.32, and advancing stocks held a narrow 639-to-587 lead over declining ones on the New York Stock Exchange. Some 1,604 issues in all had changed hands in light trading.

Rising fuel oil prices as the result of a national shortage pushed most oil stocks upward, and the three most-active stocks on the Big Board were all oils. Gulf was unchanged at 28 7/8; Texaco, up 1/8 to 42 7/8; and Cities Service, up 1/8 to 51 1/4.

General Motors, which announced a recall of 3.7 million cars, was off 3/8 to 78 3/4. But there was no evidence the recall was depressing the price since Ford was off 1/8 to 76 1/8, and Chrysler was off 1/8 to 39 1/2.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,400 common stocks was up 0.03 to 64.54, and the price-change index at the American Stock Exchange was up 0.01 to 26.32.

Nixon Changed Inaugural Talk, Julie Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the early hours of Inauguration Day, President Nixon revised his inaugural address to include thoughts his younger daughter said "came to him in the night" about other presidents' dreams for America.

What he added amounted to a recognition that a president alone can't carry out his dreams.

He appealed for the prayers of the people for God's guidance and for their help so that, together, "we may be worthy of our challenge."

Julie Nixon Eisenhower said this was one of her favorite parts of the 1,800-word, 17-minute inaugural speech. The family had not read the text in advance, she told a reporter at a reception following Sunday's White House worship service.

Viney Applies For New Trial

Jurors called Thursday for the trial of Nathilee Harris and Vernal Viney were dismissed and Judge Robert Tague, of New Lexington, heard the case.

The two, indicted on two counts each of passing forged checks at local supermarkets, signed waivers for a trial by jury Thursday and placed their cases before Judge Tague, who was here on assignment.

Tague found the Harris woman innocent of both charges. He then ruled Viney was guilty of passing a forged check at the Super Duper Market but found him not guilty of a similar offense at the Kroger store.

Sentencing was withheld and Viney released under bond pending outcome of Viney's motion for a new trial.

Commandments Unconstitutional?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger has expressed doubt over the constitutionality of a proposal by Evangelist Billy Graham that the Ten Commandments be read daily in school classrooms.

Graham made the proposal at a White House prayer service Sunday attended by President Nixon and 300 guests.

"I would like our religious leaders to unite and say that we would like to have the Ten Commandments read in every classroom, every day," Graham said.

Illinois Family Discovers Inaugural Can Be Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — John H. Diacou and family began a tiring drive

Rebellion Leader Slain In Guinea

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Reports from Guinea accuse Portuguese agents of the assassination of Amilcar Cabral, the leader of the rebellion in Portuguese Guinea.

Cabral was killed Saturday night by "Portuguese agents," according to an emotional broadcast Sunday by President Sekou Toure of Guinea, a country bordering the Portuguese province on the western bulge of Africa.

Toure said Cabral, 47, was assassinated by "paid killers" outside his home in Conakry, the capital of Guinea. He said the "principal killers" had been arrested.

The Portuguese government declined to comment.

There was speculation that the leadership of Cabral's independence movement — the African Independence Party of Guinea and Cape Verde, or PAIGC — would pass to his half brother Luis or to Aristides Pereira. Luis runs the PAIGC office in Dakar and Pereira the Conakry headquarters.

Foreign Minister John Malecela of Tanzania said the liberation struggle in the Portuguese province would continue despite Cabral's death. He recalled the assassination in 1969 of Eduardo Mondlane, the leader of the liberation movement in Portuguese Mozambique, and said his movement is stronger today than ever before.

home to Chicago today, happy to have been among "the chosen few" despite the winter chill, the long lines, the short nights and the checkbook drain of Richard Nixon's inauguration.

"We fully expect to come back for the inauguration of then-President Spiro T. Agnew" in 1977, said Diacou, the 32-year-old owner of a Chicago paper-distributing company.

The Diacous were joined by perhaps 50,000 others who journeyed to the nation's capital to participate in this year's version of the quadrennial pageant.

Diacou, who also attended the 1969 inauguration, acknowledged that "the bloom was off the rose" this time around and there were plenty of noisome moments.

At the swearing-in ceremony on Capitol Hill, for example, his suitcoat buttons were ripped off accidentally, forcing him, wife Carol and daughters Joy, 10, and Constance, 7, to linger in a blustery wind until they were found.

Then there was the interminable waiting in ticket and reception lines, "enough to make any person feel it's not worth it," and a sufficient number of street bottlenecks to convince him that traffic control "is one thing that the Chicago police do better."

Diacou, who won his coveted inaugural invitations by contributing to the Nixon campaign with both time and money says he economized this time.

He figures he saved $350 in airfare by piling his wife and daughters and another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Grabowski, into the family car for the 12-hour drive.

Staying with friends in Ellicott City, Md., saved a $250 hotel bill, he said.

But there was still a matter of $40 to attend an Agnew reception, $160 for symphony seats, $80 for parade tickets, $200 for a concert, $80 for the Saturday night ball, $40 for an Illinois reception, and $40 for the American Heritage exposition.

Student Payback Plan Proposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Students studying for several professions in Ohio's higher education institutions will be required to pay back the state for its costs if the Gilligan Administration has its way.

The proposal, which requires students in medicine, dentistry, optometry, veterinary medicine and law to begin signing payback pledges next fall, will be introduced to the General Assembly, according to an administration spokesman.

Gilligan some time ago suggested that all students be required to sign pay-back pledges. The new proposal singles out specific areas of study.

A Page Of Opinion

Los Angeles Population Shrinks

Population experts are taking more than a casual interest in Los Angeles County. For years one of the fastest growing sections of the nation, the county now is losing population. For the first time in the county's 120-year history, more people left last year than moved in.

Those who have long joked about LA's smog, traffic and congestion could find many reasons for the sudden shift, but no one seems quite certain what is happening. The county is experiencing a lower birth rate than it has in the past, but so is the entire nation.

Changing lifestyles and a desire for more remote living in suburbia have been suggested. That may be part of the reason the county has lost about 7 percent of its peak population of over seven million in the 1970 census.

Earthquake discussion also may be part of the pattern. If there is anything more to it than that — if the LA experience does indicate an as yet indiscernible new lifestyle — the pattern should soon show itself in other areas which traditionally have been magnets drawing more from population mobility than they relinquish.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Jan. 22, the 22nd day of 1973. There are 343 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1901, England came to the end of an era with the death of Queen Victoria at the age of 82. She was followed on the throne by King Edward VII.

On this date:
In 1517, Turkish troops captured Cairo, Egypt.

In 1528, England and France declared war on the Holy Roman Emperor, Charles V.

In 1905, scores of Russians were killed as Cossacks Imperial Army troops fired on demonstrators in St. Petersburg.

In 1917, President Woodrow Wilson proposed a League of Nations.

In 1957, George Metesky was arrested in Waterbury, Conn., and accused of being the "mad bomber" who had planted 32 bombs in the New York area over a 16-year period.

In 1962, the 21 nations of the Organization of American States met in Uruguay to consider the threat posed by Communist Cuba.

Ten years ago: Soviet forces in Cuba were reported to be working around the clock, building and improving ground and air defenses.

Five years ago: A U.S. B-52 bomber carrying four H-bombs plunged into Greenland Bay. Washington said there was no danger of an explosion because the bombs were unarmed.

One year ago: Britain, Ireland, Denmark and Norway signed treaties to become members of the European Common Market.

Today's birthdays: Democratic Senator Birch Bayh of Indiana is 45. Actress Ann Southern is 62.

Thought for today: Philosophers are people who talk about something they don't understand, and make you think it's your fault — anonymous.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are there different types of hemorrhoids? Is surgery the only way to cure them permanently?

Mr. P.R., Canada

Dear Mr. R.:

A large network of veins lie in the mucous membrane and the skin around the anal canal and the lower rectum. When there is increased pressure or strain on these veins they become enlarged. Chronic constipation, pregnancy, obesity, and persistent "tobacco coughs" can produce varicosities, or enlargement, of these tiny veins.

There are two types of hemorrhoids: external and internal. Both can be responsible for fresh blood in the stool associated with pain and spasm during elimination.

The size and the number of hemorrhoids may vary. Sometimes, when neglected, they may develop a clot, or thrombus. This makes the condition more painful and inflamed.

There are a number of techniques for the treatment of hemorrhoids when they are recognized early. If they are uncomplicated, all that is necessary is the correction of the underlying cause.

Daily use of mineral oil taken internally reduces the hard, painful passage of waste. Gentle lubrication before elimination can be very helpful. Rigid hygiene is essential to prevent complication and infection.

In uncomplicated cases, injections of special chemicals into the enlarged vein are sometimes used. External hemorrhoids are rarely, if ever, treated by injections.

When pain is constant and severe, or when intolerable itching and marked bleeding occur, the safest and most successful treatment is by surgery.

Even after an operation it is most important that the underlying causes be eliminated if the possibility of more hemorrhoids is to be avoided.

Dr. Irving Schoenfeld, a well-known New York proctologist, believes that many patients do not freely discuss early hemorrhoidal problems with their doctors because of sheer embarrassment. Were they free of such unrealistic hesitation, Dr. Schoenfeld thinks that many complicated problems could be avoided.

I was told that my uncle had air pumped into his brain. Why would this be done?

Miss S.L., Ind.

Dear Miss L.:

X-rays cannot normally portray the brain. When air is injected, the size, the shape and distortions of the brain can be studied as an aid to diagnosis.

A small amount of air is painlessly injected into the spinal canal by way of a "lumbar puncture." The air then rises and outlines the brain.

This test is known as "pneumoencephalography," and is exceedingly safe. The headache that usually accompanies it is short-lived.

Cotton tip swabs, when carelessly used, can perforate the ear drum and cause a great deal of trouble, sometimes even deafness.

Smoking Pot Is Dangerous

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

I'll never forget the anguished wail of a liberal housewife whose teen-age children, going one beyond her in permissiveness, had nibbled at experimenting with harsher drugs. "Gawd", she said, "I wish they'd go back to booze."

That was in the high Woodstock Nation period, when the use of LSD, heroin and other hard drugs was cresting. Since then, we are reliably informed by our high school and college friends, there has been a general tendency to draw back from extremes to the pot-smoking middle. The use of marijuana, or the cannabis plant, remains in the mode as something that is "safe"; it is, so a sizeable coterie of the young insists, no more dangerous or addicting than the gin favored in Scott Fitzgerald's romantic heyday.

The chance that we are drawing closer to the time that the use of marijuana, if not the actual sales, will be legalized has been enhanced by a curious concatenation. On the left, the Ralph Nader-blessed Consumers Union (which can find no value in Vitamin E, a dietary supplement endorsed by more than one heart specialist) has put out a report calling for the legalization of pot. On the right, Bill Buckley's National Review has published a pro-pot article, and chairman Bill has himself commended the article to the extent that he finds it unrealistic to treat cannabis smokers as criminals.

As a libertarian, I could accept the theory that it is ridiculous to try to police the sumptuary habits of people by law where the sale of a cumulative poison is not involved. If marijuana is indeed no more harmful than whisky in moderation, or beer when you're having more than one, then it is sheer hypocrisy for anyone save an old-time prohibitionist to sanction jail for its use. But if marijuana is a demonstrated cumulative poison, then it would be criminal indeed to abet its distribution.

Despite Consumers Union and National Review, the jury is still out on the subject of marijuana. We move in a curious world in which evidence, pro and con pot smoking, reaches the public by a most uncertain trickle. Last September, before Consumers Union issued its report and National Review gave space to its pro-pot witness, a U.S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee took the testimony of Dr. Olav Braenden, a scientist who has been director of the United Nations Narcotics Laboratory in Geneva for sixteen years. What Dr. Braenden had to say is extremely sobering, not to say frightening. He brought to the attention of the Senators a whole sheaf of European documents that "point strongly to the conclusion that marijuana may be far more dangerous than had previously been believed."

Senators Eastland and Gurney, listening to Dr. Braenden were visibly shaken. They heard the contention of Professor W. D. Paton of Oxford University that "cannabis builds up in the fatty tissues of the body — which include the brain — in the manner of DDT." Dr. Paton reported that cannabis "produces fetal deformities in animals in the manner that resembles the damage done by thalidomide."

Dr. Paton's findings were corroborated by a research paper taken from The Lancet, a British medical journal. According to this paper, ten youthful patients, with histories of marijuana use extending from three to 11 years, "showed serious brain atrophy comparable to the atrophy that normally takes place between the ages of 70 and 90."

On a less portentous plane, Dr. O. Rafaelson of the Central State Hospital of Copenhagen, has discovered a considerable impairment of driving ability after "oral ingestion of cannabis." Other European scientists whose findings have impressed Dr. Braenden include Dr. A. M. Campbell of the Bristol Royal United Hospital in Britain, Professor C. Miras of the University of Athens, and Dr. Cornelius Salamink of the University of Utrecht in Holland.

Needless to say, the Consumers Union report makes no reference to the work of these men. Nor did the National Review pro-pot article dwell on their findings. So let's have another go at the subject of pot before we jump from frying pan to fire and legalize its use.

23 States Hit By Flu

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control says deaths due to pneumonia and influenza have reached epidemic proportions in the Middle Atlantic and Pacific regions.

A CDC official said Friday that a check of 122 cities revealed a total of 825 deaths for the week ending Jan. 13.

Outbreaks of London flu have now been reported in 23 states, the CDC said.

The latest report by the center added five states—Louisiana, Michigan, Utah, Virginia, Ohio—to the previously listed states of California, New York, Iowa, Maryland, Hawaii, Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Texas, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Tennessee, Illinois, Washington, New Jersey, Georgia and North Carolina.

Upper respiratory illnesses resembling the flu have also been reported in Nevada and New Mexico, the CDC said.

Judge Blocks Pay Return

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A temporary injunction has blocked efforts to collect $4,500 in "illegal" pay raises granted to Municipal Judge Franklin Sheeter over the past four years.

Common Pleas Judge Harley Meyer granted the temporary injunction on the basis of a law passed by the General Assembly, and effective Dec. 30, which stops attempts throughout the state to collect from municipal judges pay increases they received under a constitutional amendment permitting judicial pay raises during a term of office.

Municipal judges were not mentioned in the amendment and the Ohio Supreme Court later ruled the law not applicable.

Sheeter contends a legislative order in Feb. 1968 changing his jurisdiction from city to countywide in effect established a new salary and a new term for his office. Therefore, he claims he did not receive a pay increase during his current term of office.

Judge Meyer ordered $5,000 bond be posted pending a final ruling.

Street Sign Thieves Cost Suburban Cities Thousands

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Vandals and street sign thieves have created a major problem for a number of suburban Cleveland communities which are faced with annual repair bills in the thousands of dollars.

Willoughby Hills spent nearly $8,000 replacing lost or damaged signs during 1971, and although that might have been an alltime record, a number of other towns haven't been far behind.

It cost Eastlake almost $1,000 to replace and repair signs stolen or damaged by vandals during the first eight months of last year. And city officials said the cost would have been between $3,000 and $4,000 if the city didn't have its own sign shop.

Mentor shelled out $2,000 in 1970 to replace 100 stolen signs. The following year, the number of missing signs rose to 105.

The cities put much of the blame on parents who fail to discipline their children or to report them when the missing signs show up on the walls of their rooms.

"Parents should ask, 'Where the hell did you get that?'" when street signs are displayed, one city official said. He said there is a report one youth in the area has some $500 worth of street signs stored in the basement of his parents home.

Robbery Attempt Proves Fizzle

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A robbery attempt by two youths here fizzled completely Sunday night.

The trigger of their .22-caliber revolver fell off, they made the mistake of leaving their victim with a dime and their getaway car failed to start.

Police said they took $6 from a man in a telephone booth and then tried to start their car. Meanwhile, the man, Willie Patterson, used his remaining dime to telephone police, and officers responded quickly enough to nab the youths in their car.

Since 1952, the governors-general of Canada have been native-born.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD DALE HART JR.

Smith-Hart Wedding Vows Read In Community Methodist Church

Before the altar of Community United Methodist Church, decorated with an arrangement of red and white carnations and holly, Miss Gale Marie Smith and Mr. Edward Dale Hart Jr., exchanged wedding vows 2:30 p.m. Dec. 9th.

The Rev. David Frazer performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Smith, Route 5, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Hart Sr., 191 Sunset Drive.

A program of organ music was played preceding the wedding by Mr. Duane Hart, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She selected for her wedding a Chantilly lace gown over a hoopskirt. The bodice featured a high neckline and Queen Anne sleeves. Petals of flowers in matching lace framed her face with a finger tip veil and her lace train fell gracefully to semi-cathedral length. She carried a bouquet of white pompons trimmed with holly atop a white Bible, a gift from her grandmother. She also wore a blue sapphire necklace, a gift of the bridegroom and a diamond brooch, borrowed from Mrs. David Schlichter.

Mrs. Roger Huebner served as matron of honor for her sister. She was attired in a royal blue velvet gown with long sleeves and high neckline trimmed in old fashioned lace. Her bouquet was of red carnations and holly.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Russell and Mrs. Rhonda Gibson. They were gowned as the honor attendant in ruby red velvet and carried matching bouquets.

Flower girls were the Misses Jackie Sue and Jane Ann Huebner, nieces of the bride. They were dressed in gowns with lace bodices and royal blue velvet skirts, and they carried matching bouquets of white pompons and holly.

Mr. Roger Huebner, brother-in-law of the bride performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Mr. David Russell and Mrs. Dennis Schlichter.

The bride's mother wore a long, aqua blue gown with empire bodice and matching jacket and accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations and holly.

Mrs. Hart was in a mint green gown with sheer sleeves and skirt, and velvet top. Her accessories were also of mint green and her corsage was red carnations and holly.

A reception at the L-K Restaurant immediately followed the ceremony. A wedding arch where the bride and groom stood to cut the cake was placed behind the bride's table. Lighted tapers flanked the three tiered cake topped with figurines of a bride and groom. Hostesses were Mrs. Gail Linton, Mrs. John W. O'Hara and Miss Debbie Eby.

As her going-away costume the bride wore a blue velvet dress with a white sweater cape. Her corsage was taken from the bridal bouquet. The couple now resides at 656-4 Cherry Hill Court, East, Columbus, Ohio.

The new Mrs. Hart, a graduate of Circleville High School, attended Moorehead State University in Kentucky.

Mr. Hart, also a graduate of Circleville High School, served four years in the U.S. Navy and is currently employed at Transit Warehouse in Columbus as a locator.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Ashville, Columbus, Marion and Wilmington, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Expect Assembly To Cut Gilligan Budget To $9.1 Billion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Experts expect the $9.7 billion budget Gov. John J. Gilligan submitted Wednesday night to be cut to around $9.1 billion before it becomes law.

Ironically, the figure most legislators agree upon is what Gilligan requested two years ago. He got $8.1 billion then, including a state income tax.

In the House, where Democrats hold the majority, foes of big spending are looking to Finance Committee Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, to wield the knife.

Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, removed from the committee three veteran Republican members wise to the ways of budget requests and cuts. Two of them had actively opposed Kurfess' election as minority leader.

The Senate, knowing that Republicans will be weak in stopping large spending in the House, have set up a last line of defense in their own Finance Committee.

With Republicans holding a 17-16 edge in the Senate (Democrats hold a 58-41 margin in the House), Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Columbus, increased the GOP majority on his finance committee.

Gray put seven Republicans on Finance, while Democrats are limited to four members. All other committees, except rules, have a 5-4 party-line split, reflecting the GOP's slim majority.

The Rules Committee, which gives final okay to any bills to get a floor vote, is split 6-3 in favor of Republicans.

"The budget is important in setting state priorities and we wanted a little more control," Gray said. He noted that committee votes in the Senate are now always along party lines.

Under the setup, what Gray can't stop in Finance he can in Rules, which he controls.

A code of ethics bill is expected to get

ORDINANCE NO. 16-73
ORDINANCE PERTAINING TO A CONDITIONAL INTENT TO PROVIDE SELF-SUPPORTING HOSPITAL REVENUE BOND FINANCING, AND SELF-APPROPRIATING GENERAL OBLIGATION BOND AND BOND ANTICIPATORY NOTE FINANCING FOR BERGER HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENTS AND CONSTRUCTION AND TO APPROVE AN AGREEMENT PERTAINING THERETO BY AND BETWEEN THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PICKAWAY, OHIO, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, heretofore the City of Circleville and the County of Pickaway in May, 1949, entered into an agreement for the construction and operation of a Hospital, now known as The Berger Hospital; and WHEREAS, it is now deemed necessary to cause certain expansion of The Berger Hospital, together with the necessary facilities and equipment; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Governors of The Berger Hospital has caused certain surveys and studies to be made of the Hospital needs at The Berger Hospital; and WHEREAS, it has been determined that the financing of the expansion should be accomplished in the manner described in the Agreement between the City and the County of Pickaway, as hereafter set forth; and

WHEREAS, the proposed hospital revenue bond financing would not be general obligations of the City, no taxes would be authorized or levied for their payment, such bonds would be payable solely from the operating income of The Berger Hospital after payment of operating expenses, and the bondholders would have a right to payment solely from such operating income; and that the financing represented by the general obligation bonds or notes would be secured by taxes within the 10 mill limitation, however, it is contemplated that the net operating income derived from the Hospital, after making provision for payment of the Revenue Bonds, will be sufficient to pay the debt service on such bonds; and

WHEREAS, the issuance of such hospital revenue bonds will not impair the ability of the City to finance any other projects with general obligation bonds; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Hospital Commissioners and Board of Governors for The Berger Hospital wish to proceed with architectural plans relating to such project, with approving a bond underwriter for the financing, with obtaining a comprehensive financial feasibility report from Ernst & Ernst in such detail and form as is necessary for revenue bond marketing, and for such purpose desires that the City and County, by the approval of the Agreement below mentioned, and on the conditions mentioned therein commit themselves to authorize and provide for the issuance of the financing also described therein.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL of the City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That the Mayor of the City of Circleville on behalf of the City enter into an agreement with the County of Pickaway to carry out the expansion and equipping of The Berger Hospital as outlined in surveys and architectural drawings, the cost of the construction, and equipment of the hospital facilities to comprise the Project be in an amount not to exceed $1,550,000.00 said Agreement to provide as follows:

Section 2. That the Board of Hospital Commissioners and Board of Governors are hereby authorized and directed to proceed with the contract with Roose, Wade & Company, an Underwriter and with Ernst & Ernst for a comprehensive economic and financial feasibility study, approves the Hospital Commissioners taking of steps under Revised Code Section 749.04 through 749.14, inclusive, and other applicable laws, which are necessary prerequisites to the letting of construction contracts, including obtaining architectural and engineering plans and specifications, but does not approve letting of any construction contracts to be paid from the proceeds of the aforesaid revenue bonds and other financings until and unless the conditions stated in the Agreement approved in Section 1 hereof, are satisfied, and the City has authorized such revenue bonds and general obligation bonds or notes, and the Board of County Commissioners of Pickaway County has authorized the general obligation bonds or notes as described in said Agreement.

Section 3. That this Ordinance is hereby determined to be an emergency measure, the immediate passage of which is necessary for the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is immediately necessary to make provision for enlarging and improving Berger Hospital in order to be able to provide effective medical care to the residents of this City, wherefore, this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately upon its adoption and approval by the Mayor.

approval in the 110th General Assembly but it is not expected to be anywhere near the full financial disclosure bill Gov. Gilligan wants.

Many critics claim the conflict of interest section in the Gilligan proposal would keep lawyers and teachers from being in the legislature.

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, and Senate Minority Leader Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, are among the critics.

Both object—as do many other legislators—that the double public payroll prohibition would be unworkable.

Lancione, a lawyer, said he has represented clients before the Liquor Control Commission during 26 years as a legislator. Under the bill, he could not practice before any state agency.

Teachers, one of the largest groups other than attorneys in the General Assembly, are also public employees. They could also be drawn into the conflict-of-interest section since one of the largest items in any budget is education spending.

Calabrese said that the required full financial disclosure provision amounted to an invasion of privacy. He said the bill as introduced would be "impossible to enforce."

During his "state of the state" message, Gov. John J. Gilligan got one of his biggest hands when he said the industrial safety protection standards he wanted to develop "apply to women as well as men."

Gilligan was interrupted twice again as he said his administration was concerned with the discrimination women feel "in many facets of society." He said he was deeply committed to improving their job opportunities.

"I urge also that this General Assembly act swiftly to approve the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution," he said, followed by another round of applause.

Frank W. King, who heads the politically-potent Ohio AFL-CIO, was asked to comment last week on Gov. John J. Gilligan's State of the State message to a joint session of the legislature. He was ready to comment, but not so much about the speech.

The former Democratic state senator immediately took the governor to task for rejecting proposals to rewrite Ohio income tax laws so that married couples can get a break on filing joint returns—just as they do on federal returns. "He's going to get some flak on this," King predicted.

The change King wants, along with certain other inequities he claims the law places on lower income workers, would cost the state about $90 million a year in revenue.

The union chief said he did not know Gilligan had stopped short of flatly rejecting the proposal, and had told newsmen he would consider it if a way to make up the revenue loss was provided. "In that case, I think maybe we can talk," King said.

Gilligan never mentioned the tax controversy in his speech, although it is growing in the legislature on both sides of the political aisles. The governor said the "generosity" of those who advocate the change puzzles him, since they offer no way to replace the revenue. "That's irresponsibility," Gilligan said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Overseas But Not Underloved

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our twenties. We have been married for almost a year and a half. We have no children. Our sex life is nil. We haven't slept in the same bed for nine months. In as many months we have not even eaten a meal together, or spent one evening together. We spoke to each other a month ago, and that was on the telephone.

Still, with our limited communication we have grown to love and appreciate each other more every day. You see, my husband is one of the thousands of men who is serving his country overseas. God willing, he will be home in three months, and then I will thank my lucky stars every day for having my husband near me. Every wife should follow suit. Courage to those who are separated from their loved ones. MRS. RONALD M.

MRS. RONALD M. HAYES

DEAR MRS. HAYES: Thank you for a beautiful reminder. Many of us casually take for granted the blessings others are denied.

DEAR ABBY: That woman who wrote to you about having a mad crush on her doctor has the same problem I had, only I didn't have sence enough to ask anybody's advice. I plunged right into a stupid affair with mine. All I can say is, if a woman has to have an affair, she should find herself a nice salesman. The last man in the world to pick is a doctor. He has a hundred built-in excuses for not showing up, or canceling out, or running away early.

Mine never did call me by my first name, or last name. Or even the number on my chart. Sign me...

CURED IN ALBANY

DEAR CURED: According to my mail, (with few exceptions) the only woman a doctor has time for other than his wife is his nurse.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter and her fiance told us they would rather have $1,000 in cash than a big wedding. Our stipulation was that she would tell us when it was to occur and we would give her the money.

They were married on a Saturday and we were not told until the following Monday (they sent us a brief note.) Although they didn't honor their part of the agreement, we honored ours.

At Christmastime we gave our son a new car. He's a college student and needed reliable transportation. Our daughter immediately asked us where "her" car was. In other words, she felt that since we gave her brother a car for Christmas, she had one coming too. Her husband makes a good living, but as an appeasement, we told our daughter that when she was ready to buy a home, we would give her the price of the automobile toward a down payment.

These are the only children we have, but how much do you think parents owe their grown children?

BAFFLED IN BALTIMORE

DEAR BAFFLED: They don't "owe" their grown children anything. I don't know much about your son, but your daughter appears to be taking you for all she can get, and she's getting plenty.

DEAR ABBY: That dentist who said the reason people lose their teeth is because of carelessness and neglect ought to meet my husband. He is 95 years old and he still has all his own teeth, and never had a filling in any one of them. He never had a toothbrush in his mouth and never even heard of dental floss. Besides that, his teeth are so white and pretty folks keep asking him what dentist made 'em. He must have kept his mouth sterilized with some of the hottest words a man could release between his teeth.

AFC Wins Pro Bowl Tilt, 33-28

DALLAS (AP) — The American Football Conference, formed in a fiery merger with the old National Football League, had every right to be chesty today—at least for a year.

The AFC made it a historic clean sweep over the National Football Conference in Sunday's 33-28 Pro Bowl victory.

Previously, the AFC had captured the exhibition season 27-25-4 and the regular season 20-19-1 from their older rivals and Miami dropped NFC member Washington 14-7 in the Super Bowl.

Sunday was the clincher in a collision of All-Stars between the two leagues.

"Last year the NFC got the most ink—we wanted to prove something," said running back O.J. Simpson of Buffalo, the game's Most Valuable Player.

Simpson, who led the NFL in rushing with 1,251 yards, scored one touchdown, rushed for 112 yards and caught three passes for 58 yards.

The victory before 47,879 chilled fans in Texas Stadium gave the AFC a 2-1 lead over the NFC in the series.

Simpson said offensive linemen Gene Upshaw of Oakland, Walt Sweeney of San Diego, Larry Little of Miami and Winston Hill of the New York Jets had him wide-eyed because they were so fired up for the game.

"These guys talked all week about how they were going to kill their man," Simpson said.

Otis Taylor of Kansas City, who caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, said there was much more at stake than the difference between $2,000 and $1,500 for the winners and losers.

"The rivalry still exists ... It may not be as intense as the old days, but it's there," Taylor said. "Coach (Chuck) Noll (of Pittsburgh) told us the first day we were here to win and that was the attitude of the entire team all week."

John Brockington of Green Bay scored three touchdowns and quarterback Norm Snead of the New York Giants hit tight end Ted Kwalick of San Francisco with a 12-yard scoring pass but it wasn't enough.

Marv Hubbard of Oakland scored on an 11-yard run, Bobby Bell of Kansas City intercepted a Snead pass and re-

Invigorated Rockets Beat N.Y. Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Egan found a job. Walt Frazier lost his shoe and the New York Knicks lost a game.

The three events happened in Houston Sunday when Johnny Egan was made head coach of the Houston Rockets, Walt Frazier lost his sneaker with five seconds left in the game and the Knicks lost the game 107-103 in National Basketball Association play.

Egan said he hadn't thought too much about being named coach and beating the Knicks in his first game.

"If it had been for the championship or something, maybe so, but we've got to play more games next week."

Newlin said, "It was just our turn to win that's all. It's a funny thing in basketball, sometimes you win and it has nothing to do with talent, like a guy falls down or loses his shoe."

The Rockets led by 14 points late in the third quarter, but the Knicks charged back in the final quarter and tied it 103-103 with 22 seconds to go on a basket by Dean Meminger.

Victorious UCLA Eyes 60th Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's No. 1 in college basketball? Why, UCLA, of course.

Who's nervous? UCLA Coach John Wooden, naturally.

Despite winning their 59th straight victory with a convincing 101-77 decision over ninth-ranked Providence Saturday night, the Bruins were still a matter of concern for their constantly uneasy leader.

"I expect a tough weekend in the Midwest," said Wooden as his team zeroed in on the alltime winning streak.

After beating two Top Ten teams over the weekend—they mashed No. 10 San Francisco the night before—it would seem that the record of 60 straight is within easy grasp of the defending national champions.

The Bruins will play Loyola of Chicago this Thursday night and Notre turned it 12 yards for a touchdown and Pittsburgh's Roy Gerela kicked field goals of 18 and 22 yards for the AFC which overcame a 14-0 first quarter deficit.

Crampton Wins Tucson Open Despite Triple-Bogey Finale

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bruce Crampton has taken two in a row, but the Australian veteran harbors no illusions about winning three consecutive events on the tough American pro golf tour.

"No, I don't think so," Crampton said with an almost sad smile when asked if he planned to make this week's Bing Crosby National Pro-Am his third successive triumph.

"This one took a lot out of me," Crampton said Sunday after his easy, front-running victory in the Dean Martin-Tucson Open, a decision that was tarnished just a trifle by a meaningless triple bogey seven on Crampton's finishing hole.

"I'm pretty tired," he said. "I didn't sleep very well all week. I came in here knowing I was playing well. I was

Toledo Upends Miami Of Ohio, 92-77

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's basketball players, starting at a pending knockout, delivered their own early haymaker in the scrambled Mid-American Conference race.

"The team wasn't counting ten and neither was I. That's important," Toledo Coach Bob Nichols said of an improbable 92-77 pounding the Rockets gave Miami of Ohio on its own floor Saturday night.

So, instead of being an expected 1-3 in the MAC, Toledo is just one game back of Miami and Bowling Green at 2-2. The coleaders are 3-1.

Bowling Green also came up with an important road victory, edging Kent State 67-64. Ohio University, the preseason title favorite, sagged into a last place tie with Western Michigan after falling to the Broncos 68-67.

Central Michigan, tied with Toledo and Kent State for third place, had Saturday off. Central is 3-3 and the other two 2-2 in the conference.

Toledo sank 63 per cent of its shots, scoring the most points on a Miami team in Millett Hall's five-year history.

"They had their backs to the wall, came down here and executed every phase of the game. We just got beat in every facet," Miami mentor Darrell Hedric said.

All-league forward Tom Kozelko led the charge with 30 points and 11 rebounds. The Rockets were in front 48-34 by halftime and took advantage of 25 Miami errors. Jeff Montgomery's three point play with 2:15 to go lifted Bowling Green into a 63-60 lead at Kent and the sophomore-studded Falcons held on thereafter.

Pat Haley, Bowling Green's second-year coach, refused to take credit for the victory.

"I'm probably still a 4-20 coach (last year's record)," he chuckled. "I'm no better a coach this year than I was last year. We just have better players."

Brian Scanlan paced the victory with 20 points and Cornelius Cash added 16 for Bowling Green.

Mike Steele's basket with four seconds left snapped a five-game losing streak for the Broncos. Frank Ayers topped a balanced Bronco attack with 18 points. Denny Rusch hit 21 points and George Green 20 for Ohio.

In other Ohio college action, Ohio State won its first game in the Big Ten this season and Otterbein knocked off Capital for the sole Ohio Conference lead.

Guard Allan Hornyak's four straight free throws in the last 40 seconds gave the Buckeyes a 75-72 home victory over Iowa. Head Coach Fred Taylor was in the hospital and his longtime assistant Bob Burkholder guided the Ohio State squad.

Bob Deckard's long basket with four, seconds left gave Otterbein its 64-62 verdict over eighth-ranked Capital. That gave the Cardinals' a league-leading 5-0 record.

Cincinnati overpowered Ball State's zone defense 104-77 with Derreck Dickey and Lionel Harris pitching in 18 points apiece for a 9-6 record.

Notre Dame outscored Dayton 29-8 in the first 11 minutes of the second half and crushed the Flyers 94-58. The Flyers' Donald Smith, averaging nearly 26 points, was held to six.

Xavier outlasted Canisius 74-73 with a 10-2 scoring surge late in the second period to snap a six-game losing streak. Xavier's Bob Fullerton led all scorers with 23 points.

Elsewhere, it was Heidelberg 75, Hiram 74, in overtime; Mount Union 88, Ohio Wesleyan 78; Wittenberg 74, Oberlin 60; Bellarmine 91, Ashland 59; Youngstown State 66, Westminster 58; Defiance 68, Ohio Northern 49.

That the above yearly salaries be figured at fifty six hours per week, and that all Firemen below the rank of Chief shall receive time and one half for all hours worked over fifty six hours per week.

That changes in rates be made on anniversary dates of employment or promotion.

That any person receiving a promotion shall not necessarily start at the first step of the new salary range, but at the step which provides an increase in salary.

SECTION II: That since the above pay schedule does not provide a full five and one half (5½) per cent increase in salaries for Firemen in the two and three year brackets and for Lieutenants in the two year bracket, the following schedule shall be followed until such time as the schedule as set forth in Section I of this ordinance equals or exceeds the schedule as set forth below.

SECTION III: That all salaries listed in this ordinance shall be payable semi-monthly on the first and fifteenth days of each calendar month.

SECTION IV: That the Fire Department as constituted herein, shall be classified by the Director of Public Safety as required by law.

SECTION V: That all portions of previous ordinances pertaining to the salaries of Fire Department personnel shall hereby be rescinded.

SECTION VI: That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the peace, health and safety of the City of Circleville, Ohio and to provide for a standard pay scale and correct discrepancies in other ordinances, and shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

Donohue Wins Winston 500 In Matador

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Mark Donohue, a member of Philadelphia's social set, has officially joined the exclusive club that belongs to the "good old boys" of Southern stock car racing.

He acquired his membership Sunday when he drove a boxlike American Motors Matador to an easy victory in the $100,000 Winston-Western 500 at Riverside International Raceway.

The race opened a 31-event schedule for the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing and it drew 51,000 persons into the sprawling road course grounds.

Donohue, 35, who lives in the Philadelphia suburb of Newtown Square, Pa., didn't become involved in NASCAR doings until last year, when he made his debut in Roger Penske's untried Matador in the traditional Riverside opener.

His Matador wasn't reliable or strong enough to cause the stock car boys even mild concern last year, but the moonfaced Pennsylvanian was hot as a pistol elsewhere. He won the Indianapolis 500, among other racing plums.

This year he came back to Riverside and qualified the red, white and blue machine fourth fastest among 40 starters—just slightly behind front-row sitters David Pearson in a Mercury and Bobby Allison in a Chevrolet. Next to Donohue in the second row was Hershel McGriff, third fastest qualifier, in a Dodge.

Steve Smith Vaults

To World Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Smith owed a favor and he paid it off in a big way.

Smith, the brawny pole vaulter from Long Beach State, soared to a world record of 17 feet, 11 inches Saturday night in the Sunkist Invitational indoor track meet at Los Angeles and then explained later that he owed the performance to meet promoter Al Franken.

"He's been very good to me," said Smith, "allowing me to compete when I wasn't always at my best."

New England Romps Over Winnipeg, 7-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Jack Kelly of the New England Whalers wasn't going to let Winnipeg's No. 1 line of Bobby Hull, Chris Bordeleau and Norm Beaudin beat him again. And his solution worked—offensively as well as defensively.

Kelly assembled a checking line of Kevin Ahearn, John Danby and Mike Hyndman to handle the Hull trio. Not only did the defensive specialists keep Hull and his linemates off the scoreboard, but they scored three goals of their own in New England's 7-2 World Hockey Association romp over Winnipeg.

New Chief Says Real Interpol Not Like TV

OTTAWA (AP) — Interpol, the International Criminal Police Organization, has been trucking down international smugglers, counterfeiters and killers for nearly half a century.

But its function is over-dramatized and misunderstood by the public, says the first Canadian ever to lead the world agency which links police forces in 114 countries around the globe.

Commissioner W. Leonard Higgitt of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the first non-European president of In-terpol, says the colorful image that has grown up around the organization is both misleading and inaccurate.

"Contrary to what the television series says, In-terpol doesn't have high-level investigators flying around the world.

"There are none of these guys out making arrests, telephone calls from phone booths and so on. This is straight fiction."

Interpol itself has no investigators, although it does have an administrative staff of about 150 at its headquarters in St. Cloud, outside Paris.

Investigative work, and a lot of it, is done for Interpol but it is carried out by police forces in member countries, none working under the label of Interpol.

The agency exists to help countries hunt down international lawbreakers and to advance law enforcement within participating countries, particularly smaller and less-developed nations.

Commissioner Higgitt, elected president last September at the annual Interpol

general assembly in Frankfurt, Germany, said he regards the agency as one of the finest world bodies in existence.

Day-to-day Interpol operations are run by a general secretariat under direction of a secretary-general. There is also an executive committee composed of the president, three vice-presidents and nine delegates.

Under the Interpol constitution, the president, elected to a four-year term,
and all three vice-presidents, each elected for three, must come from different continents. Delegates are also appointed geographically for international balance.

Interpol is financed by member countries under a complex formula that boils down to their ability to pay.
"Obviously the United States pays more than Jamaica," said Commissioner Higgitt. "It's often a matter of judgment."

In his view, two key clauses in the constitution account for the success of Interpol.
One strictly forbids any political, military, religious or racial "intervention or activities" by Interpol in member countries.

The second restricts the obligations of each country to matters covered in its own legal system.

But the constitution does demand a response from the National Central Bureau in each country when a request is made, ensuring that no matters get shuffled aside.

Commissioner Higgitt said Interpol has become a powerful weapon against international crime since it was founded in 1923.

Although it deals with all law enforcement matters of an international nature, the narcotics trade has emerged as its biggest single concern.

Interpol has accumulated a wealth of knowledge over the years of narcotics production, illegal manufacturing and smuggling routes and may finally be "coming to grips"
with the situation, Commissioner Higgitt said.

Views On TV And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The ABC Television network is starting a new science series tonight called "What About Tomorrow?" They announced it by mental telepathy, so they may really be on to something big. Actually, they didn't tout it that way. They used the phone. But if the shows prove a success, it wouldn't surprise me to see the series out probing the world of extra-sensory perception some day.

The basic theme of the series is the effect of science and technology on our daily lives. It's a broad, difficult assignment, but the producers have some fair academic help.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology is collaborating with ABC on all the six half-hour shows now planned, providing both on- and off-camera assistance for each program.

The first show — airing at 10:30 p.m. EST tonight — deals with new computer technology and its potential for good. It's titled "On the Side of Man."

The producers get off to a good start, particularly with a segment about MIT scientists trying to broaden the language of the computer.

Oddly enough, the segment sharply illustrates how imprecisely we convey our thoughts; it should be shown to students for whom three grunts and a shrug constitutes a sentence.

Another good episode involves children "teaching" computers to form geometric shapes and in the process getting what an MIT scientist calls "a taste of the beauty and power of mathematics."

The new series, which will appear once a month, comes none too late, according to Dr. Jerome Wiesner, president of MIT and former science advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy. "In my own view, there is a desperate need for people to get a better understanding of the things now going on in science and hopefully learn a little bit about how science works," he said. "There's a growing anti-science, anti-technology movement at the moment that I think can be very damaging to society if we don't bring it under control."

THE CHAMP — Joe Frazier looks like any other businessman in suit and tie. And that he is — but most people recognize him in working togs as world heavyweight champion.

The end came late Sunday afternoon, over 47 hours after a silent robbery alarm alerted police who surprised the young gunmen in the store. One patrolman was killed and two others wounded in a flurry of gunfire.

After the initial shootout subsided to a standoff, police ringed John & Al's Sports, Inc., in Brooklyn's Williamsburg section with sharpshooters. But fear for the hostages prevented any forced showdown and police concentrated on keeping communications with the gunmen.

The break came shortly before 1 p.m. Sunday when the hostages, led by a co-owner of the store, broke through plasterboard to a sealed off stairway and escaped to the roof while the gunmen were diverted.

Four hours later, following more negotiations with police and pleas from some relatives, the gunmen walked out. Two carried a stretcher with a third who was wounded and the fourth walked ahead.

Police said preliminary reports indicated their marksmen had not fired a shot since the original gun-battle, although the gunmen had fired volleys from time to time.

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Eugene Gold said he would go before a grand jury today with charges against the four that probably would include the murder of Patrolman Stephen R. Gilroy, the attempted murder of Patrolmen Jose Adorno and Frank Carpentier, kidnapping and weapons possession.

Police said they were searching for a fifth man who was said to have been driving a getaway car when the robbery began about 5:45 p.m. Friday.

They said the motive for the robbery was to obtain guns, not money.

In a hand-written letter carried out by a doctor who attended the wounded gunman, the four described themselves as "servants of Allah" and said they were "expressing solidarity with all Muslims and oppressed people of the world."

"We have nothing to lose and victory and paradise to gain," they declared. "We will not give in to your demands, but we will continue to hold the hostages who are being well treated and will not be harmed intentionally by us."

Earlier they had released three other hostages. The nine remaining included Jerry Riccio, a co-owner of the store.

Their apparent concern for the hostages enabled Riccio to persuade the gunmen to allow the nine to move to the rear of the second floor of the three-story building to be out of police gunfire.

Riccio knew that behind a plaster-board wall there lay an escape route — a sealed-off stairway — if they could use it. The opportunity came when the gunmen heard noises against an outside wall and ran upstairs to investigate.

What Products Give You the Most Value For Your Money?

Now at Kroger you can tell at a glance

To help you get the quality you want... in the quantity you need... at the price you can afford

This program—to begin in all local Kroger Stores—is designed to introduce local Kroger shoppers to the advantages of Unit Pricing... to find out how they like it... and to see if it helps them to shop more economically. New shelf tags show the "price per lb." or "price per oz." or some other "unit price." This lets you see at a glance how much you pay for the same quantity of each size or brand of the same item.

Example: As you can see by the illustration below, the most economical buy would be the 84 ounce box of XYZ soap.

KEEPING YOU POSTED

ABOUT GROUND MEAT...

WE TELL IT LIKE IT IS

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they eat. That's why we provide information in every store to tell customers exactly what the various labels on ground meat packages represent—both as to ingredients and as to fat content.

Look for the signs posted in your Kroger meat department which tell you exactly what goes into each type of ground meat as well as the percentages of fat content. At Kroger, you can depend on ground meats to be exactly what the label states.

Beef is analyzed carefully before, during and after grinding for fat content. This close control of ingredients and fat content, as well as strict sanitation, is accomplished in Kroger's modern U.S. Department of Agriculture inspected meat distribution center.

We invite you to use this special Kroger information service. It represents one of the ways Kroger is helping you get a better value for your food dollar.
